Dr. Joan Pinkus: Understanding the Psycho-Educational Assessment and Its Implications for your Child's Learning

Do you wonder if your child has unique learning strengths and needs? Have you considered, or are you considering exploring your child's learning profile with an assessment by a psychologist? In this presentation, Dr. Joan Pinkus will explain the purpose and process of a psychological-educational assessment and what it all means.

Finally, Dr. Pinkus will explain the very important implications of the results for your child's education.

About Dr. Joan Pinkus

Dr. Joan Pinkus is a Registered Psychologist with the College of Psychologists of British Columbia. She holds a B.A. (Hons. Psych.) from the University of Montreal, an M.A. (Psychology) from the University of Toronto and a Ph.D. (Psychology) from the University of Toronto.

In her practice, Dr. Pinkus offers short and long term psychotherapy to children, adolescents, adults, and families. She has professional interest and expertise in the area of gifted learners and their needs, and conducts assessments to determine giftedness. Dr. Pinkus consults with parents and educators to help develop appropriate academic programs and social experiences for the individual child, adolescent or young adult.
